Nation's Dry Forces Rally For "Last Trench" Fight

CONFERENCE BEING HELD IN CHICAGO

W. C. T. U. Head Charges Administration Is Using "Pressure" On Voters McBride Confident

Anti-Saloon League Chief Hopeful Tide About To Turn In Favor Of Drys

CHICAGO, Aug. 31.—(UP)—Undaunted by repudiation of their cause in half the 48 states, dry leaders met today to rally prohibition forces for the "last trench" fight to keep the 18th amendment in the constitution.

The strategy they plan here will be aimed for Vermont which passes on the 21st (repeal) amendment next Tuesday, Maine which votes September 11, Maryland and Minnesota which vote Sept. 12, and the 10 other states voting between now and Nov. 7. The drys must win at least three if their cause is not to be lost this year.

Leaders of the Anti-Saloon league and the Women's Christian Temperance league were hopeful the tide was about to turn in prohibition's favor.

Charges Hurled

Charges that the Democratic administration was using "pressure" and "unfair" methods to erase the prohibition amendment were made by leaders of both the W. C. T. U. and the Anti-saloon league.

Mrs. Ella A. Boothe, president of the National W. C. T. U., took exception to remarks of Postmaster General Farley who in an address Saturday declared prohibition repeal was "an important part of the National Recovery Act."

"To this statement the W. C. T. U. takes exception," Mrs. Boothe said. "We display the Blue Eagle at national headquarters, thus showing we are doing our part and supporting the government in the matter of wages and hours of work."

To Continue Fight

"We believe it is wrong that a country should derive revenue from that which injures its people. The outlook is that if repeal comes, whatever the nation may do, the W. C. T. U. refuses to retreat before the liquor traffic."

Mrs. Boothe echoed the declaration of F. Scott McBride, super-

PICKETING IS HELD PUBLIC NUISANCE

NEW YORK, Aug. 31.—(UP)—A decision holding that the practice of picketing is a "public nuisance" and enjoining union members from exercising such methods of enforcing wage demands, was in force today following a sweeping injunction order handed down by Supreme Court Justice Sela B. Strong, in Brooklyn.

The order was directed against 200 bakery employees, which have been picketing plants where they charge, employers have sought to reduce wages.

The application for an injunction, by the Specialty Bakery Owners of America, operating about 400 shops, was granted without testimony or argument by counsel.

EX-PRESIDENT OF CUBA FACES COURT MARTIAL

Cuban Cabinet Orders Machado And Six Others To Return To Havana

HAVANA, Aug. 31.—(UP)—The revolutionary government to-day elected to invoke army discipline instead of extradition proceedings in an effort to force former President Gerardo Machado and others of his regime to return to Cuba and answer charges of malfeasance.

Machado is a retired brigadier general. The others ordered to return are General Alberto Herrera, Machado's minister of war; General Ibrahim Consegura, Machado's police paymaster; Senator Carlos Machado, Machado's brother and a retired colonel; Senator Ramon Guerra, retired Lieutenant colonel; Rep. Generoso Campo, retired major; and Senator Enrique Machado, the deposed president's cousin, and a retired captain.

To try the officers, if they return, the cabinet named as a special court Colonels Julio Morales, Miguel Varona, Eduardo Puyol and Lenardo De La Torriente.

After the cabinet meeting, President Carlos Manuel De Cespedes said it was his desire to follow the country's will regarding a constituent assembly to make constitutional reforms.

The treasury authorized payment of $1,209,675 to retire two of the five coupons in arrears on the 5 1/2 per cent $20,000,000 public works gold treasury bonds. It also made a payment of $194,000 on Morgan loans.

SLEEPING SICKNESS DEATHS TOTAL 47

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Aug. 31.—(UP)—Science lost the first round in its fight with the form of sleeping sickness now sweeping St. Louis, a one-month review of the epidemic showed today.

On the last day of July physicians diagnosed a case of extreme drowsiness, as encephalitis. It was the first case of what has proved to be the worst outbreak of the disease in this country.

Today fatalities from the one-month visit of the malady reached 47. Total number of persons stricken was 362.

MILITIA REPULSES STRIKING MINERS

GALLUP, N. M., Aug. 31.—(UP)—An attempt of striking miners in the Gallup coal fields to shut off the city's power and water was repulsed today by national guardsmen, who held the area tightly in the grip of martial law.

Sullen over Gov. Arthur Seligman's action in substituting military for civil authority in the territory, more than 500 miners, including members of their families, gathered in a large mob at the entrance of the Gamarco mine, which furnishes coal for the city's power plant and water pumping station.

He revealed that the name of their new publication, to be devoted to political news, would be called "Today." He said permission to use the title was granted them by Arthur Brisbane, newspaper columnist, who writes a daily feature under that title.

TWO STRIKERS ARE KILLED BY POLICE

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 31.—(UP)—Two striking hosiery workers were shot and killed today and at least a dozen other persons were injured, including two patrolmen and several girls, in a riot at the Cambria Hosiery Mills.

Bricks, bolts, sash weights and clubs were used as weapons in a savage attack on trucks filled with strike breakers, as several thousand strikers surged toward the entrance of the mill.

As police attempted to stem the surging crowd, several shots were fired. Two men dropped to the ground. Strikers said the shots were fired by strike breakers in a truck, while police refused to make any statement.

ROOSEVELT'S SON MEDIATOR

BOSTON, Aug. 31.—(UP)—President Roosevelt's son, James, today accomplished the first definite step toward bringing about an amicable settlement of the controversy between Brockton shoe manufacturers and employees over union affiliations.

In personal and telephone conferences with representatives of the Brockton Shoe Manufacturers' association, the 39-year-old boot and shoe workers union, and the recently-organized Brotherhood of Shoe and Allied Craftsmen, young Roosevelt got all parties to agree to have Washington investigate the dispute.

Wins Nickel But Loses Right Thumb

CHELSEA, Mass., Aug. 31.—(UP)—Charles Holland, 15, won a nickel bet but lost his right thumb.

"I'll bet this nickel," he said, holding the coin between thumb and forefinger, "that you can't hit it at a distance of 10 feet."

Leo Casparian, 18, who had boasted of being a sharpshooter, said sure he could, it was easy, "just hold it still." He leveled his revolver and fired.

Besides the thumb, Holland may lose an index finger.

350,000 NAZIS OPEN CONCLAVE IN NUERMBERG

Chancellor Adolf Hitler To Make Two Speeches And Issue Edict

NUERMBERG, Germany, Aug. 31.—(UP)—Triumphanty dominant over Germany's destinies 350,000 Nazis jammed ancient Nuremberg today for a four-day party convention that may write a flaming page in Europe's history.

With Europe alarmed at the virility of the Nazi movement and the bluntness of his talk, Chancellor Adolf Hitler, revered almost as a god, is due to make two speeches and issue party proclamation.

In addition, Hitler's chief expert on foreign affairs, Alfred Rosenberg, will deliver a report on foreign policy that offers hope of liquidating the Austrian crisis or the threat of further isolating Germany from the rest of Europe.

In 350 special trains and by every other means of transport party members, storm troopers Hitler youth, and auxiliaries poured into Nuremberg like an army, cheering above the repeat of the old church bells that rang out in welcome to them.

It was in the early evening around dinner time, the witness testified.

Attorney Maurice Rankin of the defense staff then asked Ray if he knew of any time when Lamson stayed all night in the apartment house.

Sister Present

"No," Ray answered. He said his sister, Miss Carroll Ray, was staying with Mrs. Kelley at the time.

Rankin attempted to show some of the flowers Lamson sent Mrs. Kelley went to Mrs. Ray but the witness was not certain she received any from the Stanford press executive.

Prosecutor Lindsay introduced specimens of the divorcee's handwriting, then read the "love poems" to the jury.

The state will contend she sent them to LaMason as a token of her affection for him. She and Lamson assert she sent them for possible publication in a Stanford periodical.

One verse, written on stationery of a San Francisco hotel, was:

"Life is such fun, dear That even the occasionally Across the face of our bright sun,

Our happiness, there comes the shadow of Delay and separation,

Yet deep in those hearts that worship joy, my dear,

There shuns a flow of warm content."

(A footnote was: "Lousy, but I get the idea. Changed rhythm in mid-passage.")

The second verse was:

"If in the days before we meet again

There shall come into your heart a question—

Any vestige of a doubt that I am yours as I know you are mine,

Fear not my dear.

Nor is there any need to see for I shall know are you.

And answer are you ask."

The third verse dealt of spring flowers.

Outside the courtroom Mrs. Kelley claimed she submitted the verses to Lamson for publication.

State Shows Verses From 'Other Girl'

Surprise Witnesses Testify

Lamson Seen Often In Divorcee's Rooms

SAN JOSE, Calif., Aug. 31.—(UP)—"Love poems" which a blonde divorcee admitted sending David A. Lamson were read to the jury today in the former Stanford student's trial for the murder of his wife.

Mrs. Sara Kelley, Sacramento, is the reputed author of the verses. She also is charged with being "the other woman" in the state's case against Lamson.

Previous testimony from surprise witnesses told that Lamson breakfasted with Mrs. Kelley, danced with her, and sent her flowers. She is expected to appear as a defense witness to claim her relations with the defendant were "strictly business."

Lamson was seen in her apartment five or six times during March and April of this year" by Eldridge Ray, who resides in the same building.

"It was in the early evening around dinner time," the witness testified.

Attorney Maurice Rankin of the defense staff then asked Ray if he knew of any time when Lamson stayed all night in the apartment house.

BEVERLY HILLS, Aug. 31. (To the Editor of The Register:) See picture in the papers of an old boy eating fifty-four ears of corn as an appetizer, and a woman 71 years old stored away forty-five. Since we give 'em the vote there just is no end to women's cleverness. Men just can't hardly beat 'em at anything. If Secretary of Agriculture Wallace will get busy and promote a lot of these corn-eating contests (there is no reason why it can't be made as popular as bridge—it has much more to recommend it.) Well, with a lot of these contests, they won't have to be plowing up every third row of corn. The United Press reached him by telephone.

"I have nothing to say at all about the NRA," he said.

Officials of his company were silent on the statement of General Hugh S. Johnson, national recovery administrator, that if Ford did not join in the drive for national recovery and obtain blue eagle, the public was likely to "crack down on him."

The automotive industry was started by the absence of its biggest single manufacturer and no one was willing to hazard a prediction of what Ford, a "personality" and an individualist, had in mind.

Today's celebration parade in which 15,000 workers will participate was closed to Ford employees by parade officials.

"The wetts have had their innings; now it is our turn to bat," McBride said. "When the repeal proposal was submitted to the states which have voted, 17 were regarded as wet and seven dry. The voters in the seven dry states were coerced into voting for repeal as a result of political manipulations and pressure from the administration at Washington. The vote was not a change in sentiment."

The Anti-Saloon league conferees said a definite program for their campaigns in the 24 states yet to vote, would be completed at the conference today.

Dahlia Show To Be Held September 21

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 31.—Active preparations are under way for the Fourteenth Annual Dahlia Show of the Dahlia Society of Southern California which will be held at the Alexandria hotel, Los Angeles, September 21-22. Growers amateur and professional, are cultivating their plants in competition for the valuable prizes and awards. This gorgeous spectacle will contain more than 15,000 blooms, including many new varieties.

Taylor's testimony was the first to indicate that the Lamsons' marriage was not the idyllic romance of campus tradition.

In attempting to fix the motive, Prosecutor Allen P. Lindsay temporarily abandoned efforts to prove definitely that Lamson beat his wife to death with an iron pipe last Memorial day. Earlier state witnesses had given almost equal credence to the defense contention that Mrs. Lamson fainted in the tub and struck her head on a washstand.

No Price Advance For Special Film

Official announcement that there would be no advance in prices for the showing in Santa Ana of "Gold Diggers of 1933," scheduled for the Broadway theater for a week, starting Sunday, was made today by Lester J. Fountain, manager.

Santa Ana is the first city to get the big picture of the year, outside Hollywood where it played for months at Grauman's Chinese theater, and is playing the picture even before Los Angeles and Long Beach.

"LOVE VERSES" INTRODUCED IN LAMSON TRIAL

Recess Granted

Lindsay moved for an immediate recess of the morning session and Superior Judge Robert R. Syer granted the request.

"We have two important state witnesses who have been unavoidably detained. They will be here this afternoon," Lindsay said. One of them, a prosecution attorney suggested, was a "surprise witness."

The first surprise testimony of the trial was given by Frank A. Taylor, a writer, who said Lamson told him he and his wife were near a climax in their relations, that they planned a separation, and that Lamson apparently didn't care what happened.

Taylor's story opened the state attack on Lamson's claims of marital bliss preceding the death of his wife, Allene Thorpe Lamson, in their Palo Alto campus home last Memorial day.

The double motive of "another woman" and frustrated love was advanced by the state in its attempt to prove that David A. "Son," "perfect husband," killed his brunette wife Allene on Memorial day.

Surprise Witness

Surprise witnesses made the following points:

1. Lamson, business manager of the Stanford Press, made frequent visits to Sacramento to see Mrs. Sara Kelley, blonde divorcee, former Stanford co-ed and newspaper worker. He breakfasted with her, danced with her, drank with her, received a "love poem" from her and bought her flowers.

2. Lamson told Frank J. Taylor, Los Altos writer and associate editor of the Stanford Press, a month before Allene's death that his domestic life was unhappy, and "the situation could not go on indefinitely; that a climax was approaching."

3. Deputy Sheriff John Moore overheard Lamson cry out to his sister, Dr. Margaret Lamson, a few minutes after Mrs. Lamson's body was found: "My God, why did I even marry her?"

4. Deputy Sheriff Howard Buffington said Lamson admitted he had slept apart from his wife at her request the night preceding the death. The prosecution earlier presented evidence that Mrs. Lamson employed a ruse to repel his advances and that Lamson learned of it the next morning.

Mrs. Marion Johnson, Sacramento florist, testified that Lamson and Mrs. Kelley came into her shop and "had been drinking." She said Lamson often bought flowers for the pretty divorcee.

Hotel records were introduced to reveal repeated visits of Lamson to Sacramento the last visit 12 days before Mrs. Lamson's death.

An unsigned letter containing a poem in which love terms were used frequently was identified as being in the handwriting of Mrs. Kelley.

Sought Job

Testimony that Lamson had tried to obtain a job for Mrs. Kelley was presented.

Defense Counsel Edwin M. Rea said he would put Mrs. Kelley on the stand to refute the charge of an romantic attachment with Lamson.

Mrs. Kelley, he said, will deny she drank with Lamson, show that she is engaged to Paul Lehman, now in Mexico City, and that Mrs. Johnson mistook Lehman for Lamson on at least one occasion.

Taylor's testimony was unexpected. He said:

"As nearly as I can recall Mr. Lamson said he thought Mrs. Lamson would not be happy until there was a complete separation of the family. He said that the situation was such that it could not go on indefinitely, and that it would have to reach a climax soon; he didn't care exactly what did happen. As nearly as I can recall that was the conversation."

Taylor's testimony was the first to indicate that the Lamsons' marriage was not the idyllic romance of campus tradition.

In attempting to fix the motive, Prosecutor Allen P. Lindsay temporarily abandoned efforts to prove definitely that Lamson beat his wife to death with an iron pipe last Memorial day. Earlier state witnesses had given almost equal credence to the defense contention that Mrs. Lamson fainted in the tub and struck her head on a washstand.

CONTRACT BRIDGE

By J. GORDON ALLARD
Certified Culbertson Teacher

This is the third of a series of articles running in this paper which will discuss the various new and changed bids of the 1933 Culbertson System.

In bidding for Slams one of the most useful suit bids which is new to the Culbertson System is known as the double jump re-bid. This bid can only take place after a strength-showing bid from partner, it is a forcing, take-out or a jump notrump, and shows a six-card or longer trump suit that contains not more than one possible loser. It is very important to note that this bid can only be made after a strength-showing bid from partner.

The following hand illustrates the double jump re-bid:

North	South	East	West
S-A, 6, 4, 3	5-H (2)	Pass	Pass
H-Q, 3, 2	3-D (1)	Pass	Pass
D-A, 8, 3	6-H (3)	Pass	Pass
C-A, Q, 6

(1) In rare instances, a forcing take out may be made on a three card suit headed by an Ace, provided that such suit is of lower rank than partner's opening suit. This bid is much more desirable than a three notrump, although in this particular case it would make no difference.

(2) The Double Jump Re-bid, showing at least a 6 card suit with not more than 1 possible loser. Had North responded with 3 N. T. South still make the double rebid of 5 H.

(3) Since North holds the one possible loser of his partner's suit, he is justified in bidding the 6th heart.

East's opening lead is the 5 of diamonds and declarer is able to take 12 tricks by not attempting to finesse clubs.

Anyone desiring further explanation upon the bidding or play of the hand, or any phase of the Culbertson System may obtain it from Mr. Allard by writing him at the Claremont Inn and enclosing a self-addressed stamped envelope.

ASSEMBLYMAN CRAIG LEAVES HOSPITAL

Assemblyman Ted Craig, who injured his knee several weeks ago at Newport Beach, was able to leave the Santa Ana Valley hospital yesterday and return to his home where Mrs. Craig is recovering from injuries received in an automobile accident near Mojave shortly after her husband's mishap.

Mrs. Craig was driving to the desert with her oldest son when a tire blew out and turned the car over in the ditch. She suffered head and neck wounds and an injury to the optical nerve but it is believed that she will fully recover. She has been at her home for several days.

Craig injured his knee while he and Assemblyman James Utter were at the beach with their families. Utter and Craig were lying on the sand when one of the children fell into a hole in deep water and screamed for help. Craig jumped to his feet but stumbled and fell on a piece of cement. Although his knee was badly injured, physicians believe it will not be permanently affected.

NOTED DRIVER TELLS THRILLS OF BIG RACES

Experiences and stories of race driving were told to members of the Orange County Breakfast club this morning by Peter De Paolo, winner of the Indianapolis 500 mile race in 1925 and national automobile champion in 1925 and 1927.

W. W. Woods, Santa Ana automobile dealer and member of the club, was instrumental in securing De Paolo for the program with the assistance of Barney Koster and Hubert Brown, program chairman. The driver featured his talk with descriptions of his most dangerous and pleasant races.

Another program feature was Eddie Hayes, Long Beach professional contortionist, who was introduced by Floyd Stewart. Numbers by members of the Meglin Kiddies were presented and individual performances given by Rola Houston, song and acrobatic dance; Betty Courtney, toe tap dance; Gertrude Hunt, song and dance; five-year-old Genevieve Goodman, song and dance, and Louise Seaby, strut number.

Harold Mathew has announced that the next program will be in honor of the ladies of the club and wives of members. A full program of professional entertainment from Los Angeles and Hollywood has been secured and no business will be transacted. The events will start at 7:30 a.m. at Kettner's cafe next Thursday.

COUPLE INJURED AS CAR TURNS TURTLE

Miraculously escaping serious injury when their automobile struck a stop button on the highway and turned over several times in an orange grove, Mr. and Mrs. Irvin E. Sheppard, Long Beach, were given first aid treatment early this morning and taken home.

Sheppard was driving west on Chapman boulevard in a heavy fog, and hit the stop button at Euclid avenue. The tire blew out on the right front wheel and catapulted his car 150 feet into the grove. Passing motorists took the couple to the hospital where their injuries were found to be of a minor nature.

Deputy Sheriff Harold Burrier, of Irvine Park, first arrested Weston A. Roby, 23, when he was found wearing the stolen coat.

Dr. E. B. Miller, engineer and Capt. Don Wilkie will be the principal speakers.

Following the meetings the members will view the art exhibit of the Festival of Arts and then attend a costume ball.

Members of the Orange County Engineers club will hold their monthly meeting Friday evening at 5:30 o'clock at the La Casa del Camino in Laguna Beach.

Dr. E. B. Miller, engineer and Capt. Don Wilkie will be the principal speakers.

C.C.C. CAMPER IS SUSPECTED OF THEFT

Harry Akin, 19, stationed in the C. C. C. camp in Silverado canyon, will be charged with petty theft by sheriff's officers today following his arrest last night on an investigation of a felony after being accused of stealing a coat from a car at the mountain home.

Deputy Sheriff Harold Burrier, of Irvine Park, first arrested Weston A. Roby, 23, when he was found wearing the stolen coat.

He maintained his innocence and said that the coat was given to him by Akin. Roby was released from the county jail and returned to the camp upon the arrest of Akin.

SANTA ANA'S PART IN THE NRA PROGRAM

The N. R. A. plan is designed to put five million men back on payrolls in a short time.

When this is done, 20,000,000 people (assuming four to each wage earner's family) will suddenly be placed in position to buy the normal necessities of life.

That means that the total trade volume of the nation will, upon the complete acceptance of this plan, be lifted by from ten to twenty per cent.

Santa Ana will have a definite share in this increased prosperity to the extent that it participates in the plan, so there is a responsibility on every citizen here to cooperate to the utmost to make this gigantic national plan a complete success. Every EMPLOYER and every CONSUMER has a definite responsibility to assume.

THE EMPLOYER'S RESPONSIBILITY

N. R. A. calls upon every employer to shorten hours of labor, so as to make room for more employees.

Each industry will before long adopt its own code which will fix the increased labor obligations to be assumed by all firms associated with that particular industry. Until that time all employers are asked to sign the President's Agreement and to meet the hours and wages established in that agreement. This agreement is sometimes referred to as the Blanket Code.

The success of the N. R. A. therefore calls for the cooperation of EVERY EMPLOYER.

It is to the Employer's self-interest to do this. Why? Because more people working, with bigger payrolls, will increase the market for his goods. Every dollar spent by an employer now for increased payroll will return many-fold as business flows from a consuming public, once more able to buy its unfilled needs.

So EVERY EMPLOYER SHOULD SIGN THE PRESIDENT'S AGREEMENT AT ONCE.

THE CONSUMER'S RESPONSIBILITY

Every individual man and woman, who buys anything, owes it to himself and his community and to the nation, to buy only from those employers who have taken the increased burden of increasing payrolls to bring back prosperity. This is to the self-interest of the consumer because no citizen can fail to share in this added prosperity. It will reflect itself in increased values for everything he owns. It will make his present position more secure by reversing the process of deflation.

So EVERY CONSUMER SHOULD SIGN THE CONSUMER'S PLEDGE, which commits him to do his part in this great national economic experiment.

The duty of every citizen of Santa Ana is therefore plain. The President has said:

"On the basis of this simple principle of everybody doing things together, we are starting out on this nation-wide attack on unemployment. It will succeed if our people understand it—in the big industries, in the little shops, in the great cities and in the small villages. There is nothing complicated about it and there is nothing particularly new in the principle. It goes back to the basic idea of society and the nation itself that people acting in a group can accomplish things which no individual acting alone could even hope to bring about."

Santa Ana must do its part in this great plan. This city has never failed when the nation called, and it will not fail now.

THANKS AND APPRECIATION IS EXTENDED TO ALL WORKERS AND OFFICERS

WHO TOOK PART IN THE N. R. A. MERCHANTS' AND CONSUMERS' DRIVE.

George A. Raymer, Chairman

SANTA ANA BRANCH N. R. A.

PROMINENT S. A. BUSINESS MEN WITHDRAW FROM COUNTRY CLUB TO PROTEST BEER SALE

Echoes of the heated campaign staged here a few months ago over the question of legalizing the sale of alcoholic beer in Orange county were heard today in the exclusive premises of the Santa Ana Country club with the receipt of resignations of some of the leading club members.

Some of the club members have voiced their opposition to the sale of beer on the club premises, and have threatened to withdraw from the club. Among those thus reported were A. J. Cruickshank, president of the First National Bank of Santa Ana; L. A. West, well known local attorney; and Lester Slaback, court reporter.

Mrs. Craig was driving to the desert with her oldest son when a tire blew out and turned the car over in the ditch. She suffered head and neck wounds and an injury to the optical nerve but it is believed that she will fully recover. She has been at her home for several days.

Craig injured his knee while he and Assemblyman James Utter were at the beach with their families. Utter and Craig were lying on the sand when one of the children fell into a hole in deep water and screamed for help. Craig jumped to his feet but stumbled and fell on a piece of cement. Although his knee was badly injured, physicians believe it will not be permanently affected.

Harvey Gardner, president of the Orange County Title and Abstract Company, secretary of the Country club, admitted that there had been a slight controversy over the beer question, which, he thought, was most unfortunate. He neither confirmed nor denied that some of the members had tendered their resignations, adding that he did not care to discuss the situation for publication. He expressed the hope, however, that the difficulties would be ironed out and that the names of the dissatisfied members would remain no the membership roster.

GOVERNMENT OWNERSHIP OF INDUSTRIES FORECAST BY TOASTMASTER; ELECT WRIGHT

William Wright, deputy county agricultural commissioner, was chosen president of the Santa Ana Toastmasters club at the annual election held in connection with the regular meeting last night, during which government ownership of industries was forecast by one of the speakers.

Other officers chosen in the balloting are: Merle Hall, vice president; D. W. Tibbals, secretary; Ernest Layton, sergeant at arms.

During the speaking program Dr. C. J. Ruley, president, in his talk on the subject, "Confidence in Government," forecast government ownership of industries if the NRA program fails to bring basic industries into the spirit of the "new deal." He declared that selfish greed is the greatest obstacle to be overcome. He also praised the employing of scientists instead of politicians and job-seekers; he approved of the refusal to deliver the country to either organized labor or organized capital; he spoke with approbation of the release of three million children from work. That the administration permits owners to retain their industrial and commercial enterprises on condition that they deal honestly with competitors and the public was considered by the speaker as placing capitalism on trial.

That the basic industries fear the success of the principle involved was given as the reason why they will not cooperate. It was on this point that the speaker urged his opinion that the government must take over industries failing to operate.

In quite a different vein was the talk given by Paul Roberts, introduced by Ernest Layton, toastmaster for the program of the evening as having "A Quiet Evening at Home" for his subject. Roberts used an imitation microphone, made himself announcer and entertainer, simulated voices of different members, and spiced his talk with witty remarks concerning members.

Objects To Noise

The audible munching of an apple was given by Robert Speer as the most thoroughly annoying sound he has ever heard, and his topic, "Noise," dealt with the strident noises which accompany civilization. The quiet lives led by savages permit growing gracefully into old age not hindered by man-inflicted handicaps, he said.

Harry LeBard, returned after a six weeks' absence, gave statistics on the schedule of daily radio talks given on agricultural and allied subjects, under the auspices of the Agricultural Extension service and station KFI, was announced today by Farm Advisor Harold E. Wahlberg for the week beginning September 5. The talks are presented at noon each day as follows:

September 5, "Some Seasonal Truck Crop Questions," F. H. Ernst, assistant farm advisor, Los Angeles county; September 6, "The Cost Studies of Lima Beans in Orange County," Eric E. Eastman, assistant farm advisor, Orange County; September 7, "Pointers for the Citrus Grower," W. H. Williams, assistant farm advisor, Los Angeles county; September 8, "Citricola Scale," Oscar Hemphill, commissioner, Tulare county; September 9, "What is the 4-H Club Davis Convention?" J. L. Millar, assistant farm advisor, Los Angeles county.

REMOVAL SALE AT WARD'S TO START FRIDAY

That it is more economical to offer the general public inducements to promote spirited purchasing rather than pay the cost of additional drayage is the opinion of E. L. Lucas, manager of the Montgomery Ward Santa Ana store.

"This theory has been carried out consistently in the preparations for the removal sale," Lucas said. "It is the desire of the company to open up in the new store, Fourth and Main streets, with just as complete a new stock of merchandise as is possible."

"Beginning at 9 a. m. tomorrow, we will attempt to sell everything! We will thereby save the expense of packing, crating and hauling, and pass a good part of that saving on to our customers. This will permit us to present a tremendous assortment of brand new goods and at the same time win the good will of many people through the medium of our old location."

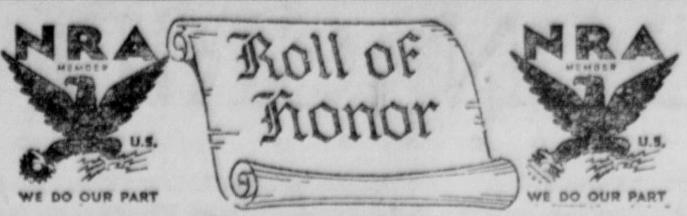

Extra salespeople, all of them from Santa Ana and vicinity, have been engaged to handle the crowds tomorrow. Plans, too, have been made to insure prompt delivery.

Lucas said further that information regarding the new store would be furnished later. The new building, now under construction by Mrs. Emma French, at the corner of Fourth and Main streets, is fast nearing completion and will be ready for occupancy within the very near future. When finished it will represent a monument to modern merchandising and offer every facility for display and service in keeping with the most advanced ideas of the times, he declared.

While no date as yet has been set for the new store opening work has been proceeding rapidly and completion should be arrived at during September.

Montgomery Ward's biggest interest can be served in the selling of merchandise during the next seven days preparatory to moving right now," was Lucas' final comment.

THESE FIRMS HAVE SIGNED EMPLOYERS' AGREEMENTS WITH PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT, PLEDGING COMPLIANCE WITH NRA REQUIREMENTS AS TO WAGES AND WORKING HOURS.

DID YOU KNOW THAT—

"Dazzy" Vance, when asked to name his successor as speed king of the National league, picked "Dixie" Dean of the Cards. Jean Borotra, that whizz-bang French netter, pauses in his strenuous matches now and then to snatch a mouthful of sugar . . . says it strengthens his heart during the tough test of tennis. . . . That Cardinal infield is pretty dassy . . . what with two triple plays this year. . . . They're having a tough time introducing baseball in England. . . . A recent game drew 150 customers at the gate. . . . who read, on a printed program, just what to yell at the players and the umpire, and what those yell mean.

BUMP, BUMP!

How many horses have been barred from fame by bumps? Might not some unsung steed today be the world's leading money-winner but for another man's notion in the stretch?

The far turn is a favorite spot for bumping. It was at the far turn that Gallant Sir bumped Equipoise in the Hawthorne Gold Cup battle at Chicago. Such a bump as Equipoise received should have thrown the Whitney wiggler off stride just as though you collided with a milk truck while dashingly madly for the 7-28.

CARRYING ON

But Equipoise carried on. There in lies part of the story of the son of Pennant-Swinging's greatness. Maybe I should say most of it. For, without a heart, a horse is lost—just like a man.

It was fortunate that the field was small. In a 12-horse race the bumped Equipoise might have been lost. As he tried to regain his stride, he might have been jolted again in scrambling quadrupeds. How many times has that hap-

'CATS' HOPE TO SQUARE COUNTY LEAGUE SERIES

Intent on squaring the "little world series" and forcing a fifth and final game on some neutral grounds, Santa Ana's Green Cats invade Huntington Beach tonight for another Orange County league playoff contest.

The Junior Oilers won the first two starts, both brilliant pitchers' battles, with Santa Ana coming back to score a decisive victory in the third joust.

Both sides plan to use their No. 1 gunners this time, with Manager Joe Harless counting on Mearl Youtz to even the count at two-and-two. Huntington Beach has nominated "Long Jim" Coates, hero of the first two games.

Harless indicated he would employ Ray Hapes as Youel's catcher, sending Pister into Hapes' patrol in left field. Lyle Morse, another pitcher, will roost center field on account of his hitting ability.

If Santa Ana is able to win, the fifth and deciding joust will be run off next Monday, probably at Anaheim.

SELL TICKETS HERE FOR OILERS, TORRANCE

A block of 100 tickets for reserved seats to the first game of the Huntington Beach-Torrance series Friday night was put on sale in Santa Ana today at the Victor Walker sporting goods store. All of Huntington Beach's "permanent" bleachers will be reserved for the opener, but circus seats will be installed back of first and third bases, and automobiles will be permitted to park in the outfield. Playoff tickets sell at 25 cents.

M'KECHNIE AWARDED FIVE-YEAR CONTRACT

BOSTON, Aug. 31.—(INS)—On the eve of the start of the pennant-contending Braves' home-stretch campaign against the first-place New York Giants today Judge Emil Fuchs, president of the Tribe, announced that Manager Bill McKechnie had signed for another five years at the helm.

The announcement came during a "radio send-off" party, wishing them luck on the six-game series against the Giants which opens today at Braves field.

FRANK SHIELDS AND CRAWFORD NOW FAVORITES

FOREST HILLS, N. Y., Aug. 31.—(UP)—With debates over last Saturday's Moody-Jacobs incident somewhat subdued, tennis fans today were discussing the probable successor to Ellsworth Vines, lanky Californian, as holder of the men's National title.

DID YOU KNOW THAT—

Nineteen years ago at this very time my little cabbages, the Boston Braves, who had been spending the summer in the cellar, started upstairs. . . . They won and won and won . . . and went right into world series. . . . It was figured they would be a soft fish for the Athletics. . . . It turned out they were indigestible for the white elephant. . . . They won four in a row from a team that was bailed as great, one of the greatest the world ever had seen. . . . George Stallings led that little band of Braves . . . and the only man left of the gallant galaxy is Rabbit Maranville. . . . He was the spark plug of that club . . . just as he is a spark plug now, leading the Braves in their upward march.

Santa Ana Club Eleven In Opener Sept. 24

The newly organized Santa Ana Athletic club football team will play its first game at Long Beach Sunday, September 24, according to Attorney Loren Smith, manager.

By PAT ROBINSON
(I. N. S. Sports Writer)

NEW YORK, Aug. 31.—(INS)—Being a cautious boy, Bill Terry, manager of the New York Giants, won't say in so many words his team has already clinched the National league pennant, but he wishes to advise the out-of-town customers that New York is a nice spot to spend a few days in early October. The weather then is unusually fine, the hotel accommodations excellent and the chances of seeing a few world series games splendid.

Puffing on a big black cigar as he made ready to board the train for Boston and that "crooked" six-game series with the Braves, the swarthy leader of the Giants gave the laugh to rumors that his team is due to crack under the strain.

"Let the Braves, Pirates, Cards and Cubs do the worrying," said Bill. "The burden of proof lies with them, not us. If you want to see what those teams are up against, just take a look at the standings."

The Braves are eight games back of us in the lost column and games once lost are gone forever. The Pirates have lost nine games more than we have, the Cubs eleven and the Cards twelve.

"Now look at the number of games still to be played. We have 34, the Braves 30, the Cubs and Cards each 28 and the Pirates 32.

If we are as far behind them as they are behind us, I know darn well I wouldn't expect to win unless all of them ran into a train wreck or something."

Off to a discouraging start when they lost a first set that took an hour to play, Lott and Stoefen rallied to defeat Frank Shields and Frankie Parker in the finals yesterday by scores of 11-13, 9-7, 9-7, 6-3.

The championship was the first of major proportions for the tall, blond Californian, but for Lott it was an old story. He previously had won the doubles crown three times in a row, with Johnny Hennessey in 1928 and with Johnny Doeg the next two years.

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 31.—Connie Mack, veteran leader of the Philadelphia Athletics, and big George Earnshaw, his "bad boy" hurler today reached the parting of the ways.

"I don't want to see him around the park any more," said Connie at Syracuse, admitting he had sent the pitcher a suspension for the rest of the season, although his salary still goes on.

"Earnshaw didn't do us a bit of good this season. I got tired looking at him. Things are more congenial when he's not around," Mack explained. He added he is in a receptive mood for offers from any club that might desire Earnshaw.

The big hurler confirmed Connie's remarks and announced that although he plans to continue his insurance business during the winter he still wants to play baseball next season.

Connie paid Jack Dunn, owner of the Baltimore club, $80,000 for Earnshaw in 1928. His best year was in 1929 when he won 24 games and lost 8. His first difficulties with Mack occurred early this spring when he was quoted in newspapers as asserting that the New York Yankees would win the pennant—in a walkaway. In mid-season Mack fined him $500 and gave him a 10-day suspension without pay when he found him asleep on a bench in the New York Yankee stadium on a day he was scheduled to pitch.

WILL KNOWN TRIO ON SPANISH HOUR

will be re-enacted under Ted Husing's direction during the program over KHJ at 6:30 tonight.

Something to appease the jaded musical appetite is the aim of the Standard Symphony Hour concert which Alfred Hertz will present over the NBC network including KFI, from 8 to 9 tonight. Rosin's sparkling genius is demonstrated to advantage in the opening number, the Overture to "La Guzana Ladra". From the Rossini work the orchestra will turn to "Minuet" and "Paradesale", by Bizet. Other highlights are two movements from a Serenade in D Major by Brahms.

Two songs with love as the theme, "Love Is the Sweetest Thing" and "This Time It's Love," will be sung by Lanny Ross, tenor star of Captain Henry's Show Boat, during the broadcast over KFI at 9 tonight.

PROGRAM ATTRACTS STUDIO VISITORS

The "Happiness Exchange" program presented each morning at 9 o'clock by Marilyn Crawford over KREG, had had several visitors during their program. These visitors have come to the studio to add their bit to the happiness of the listeners. Miss Josephine Griffith has entertained with her violin, and several selections have been beautifully played by that well known Santa Ana girl, Miss Geline Goble.

A new guest showed up yesterday morning, Miss Randall, a talented whistler. She will return next Tuesday.

The public is invited to mail or phone their requests to KREG, in other words to share their happiness with others.

KREG NOTES

Jerry Hall, known as the musical merchant, who will be on the air over this station tonight at 7:15, really does not have to worry about the preparation of his program, because he receives so many requests that the public usually picks his program for him. Pretty soft for Jerry.

Tierman Typewriter company will be on the air tonight at 6:15 over this station. This company has made special plans to assist the student during the coming school year, and these plans will be discussed during their program this evening.

The Farm Flashes presented daily from this station at 12:30 should prove of tremendous interest to the farmers of Orange county, as they deal with all the phases of farm activities, and are furnished by the United States Department of Agriculture.

Ford Economy Run To End Saturday; Driver Gives Tips

by George Dunton the Santa Ana Ford dealer, and by the other dealers in cities along the route. However, gasoline mileage figures will be released as soon as the test ends next Saturday.

"Drivers who expect the greatest economy from a modern car with a high-compression motor must follow a few positive rules that every good automobile engineer or professional driver advises."

"In the first place, don't be too quick on the getaway. In any car, the three rapid accelerations from low to second, from second to high and high to top speed will burn up more gas than you would use over a considerable stretch in normal driving."

"Another common mistake is to overwork the motor by driving below 15 miles per hour in high gear. Under this speed, use second gear."

NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG -- News Behind The News --

WASHINGTON
By George Duran

OUTLOOK

United States, England and France over the placing of a peg to stabilize world currency.

It will take such a stabilization to permit the major powers to gauge recovery with any degree of accuracy. All three governments are pulling every possible string to dictate the point of stabilization.

HOPES

The Roosevelt Brain Trust originally set the 1926 level of living as a base to return to. In recent weeks they have scaled their hopes down to the 1924-25 average.

All of the figuring our corporation can do estimates a return to the 1920-21 level—unless England gives us a bad drubbing, in which case we might have to fall back ultimately on 1913.

NRA can push—or limp—forward for a year or 16 months at the most. Further inflationary measures will have to be undertaken to stimulate, and finally the gold content of the dollar will have to be devalued about 60 per cent. It will take from two to two and a half years to raise buying power sufficiently to meet the 1920-21 level. Leaving out the hoop-la, wages to date have increased about 10 per cent from their low level while the price of staples—absolute necessities—has gone up about 100 per cent.

Take this or leave it. The Brain Trust probably will leave it.

BARUCH

There has been considerable speculation on just what Barney Baruch did in Washington during that period he sat in at the State Department and was called "acting President" a couple of months ago.

It seems he at least landed a diplomatic job for a relative—one Fay Des Portes, of S. C. Des Portes is headed for Bolivia.

Senator Ellison D. Smith has put in a protest against the appointment, based on the assumption South Carolina was going to get only one diplomatic appointment. Smith had picked our State Senator Hamlin for the job of wearing knee-breeches and silk stockings—if that is proper in Bolivia.

Instead of performing the 50-year function of history and scouting around on bedrock before upturning again, our line plunged steadily down to nether regions never before explored and in 1932 was as far below the base-line as the mountains of inflation had registered previously on the other side.

UPS

In the early months of this year an upturn started, inspired largely by Mr. Roosevelt's election and inauguration. His emergency program kept it on the ascendancy until a month ago when it sagged very slightly with prospects of returning next month.

But here is the rub. That upward climb since the Roosevelt inaugural has been based on a "free" dollar—one released from the gold standard. The line that stretched back into history was based on gold.

On a gold basis the 1932 downcurve is still heading toward the bottom of the sheet.

PEGS

In terms of a dollar that has dropped about 26 per cent there is a 70 per cent difference between the "free" up-curve and the gold down-curve.

As seen through the eyes of our corporation economist, the real struggle today is between the Matthew Sloan may come to be known as the all-American pinch-hitter. Last winter he hit for Walter Teagle on the Share-the-Work job when Teagle's own business called him home. Now there is talk that he is to be groomed to step into General Johnson's shoes.

It isn't so many years ago that Sloan was the cat's meow in utility circles. He was riding high and handsome with Brooklyn Edison. He had a keen flair for publicity—getting full value out of such rate reductions as his company offered—and took an active part in civic affairs.

But he has been foot-loose and fancy free since he left New York Edison and would probably welcome an active job. He is aggressive and a good contact man with the public. The only hitch is that organized labor might object. At that, Sloan's record with his employees was distinctly better than that of his successors.

WOLMAN

Dr. Leo Wolman, who figures so prominently in the Labor Advisory Board, is quite a colorful person. He manages seven other jobs besides being one of the big feathers in the Blue Eagle.

He is a director of the Amalgamated Bank of New York and actually runs it. The second job is director of research for the Amalgamated Clothing Workers and President Hillman's chief counsellor on every question affecting the union. Then of course there is the professorship at Columbia university. In between Dr. Wolman runs a large investment trust which still leaves him enough time to take his job as Associate Editor of the New Republic seriously. His work as director of research for the National Bureau of Economic Research and as active director of the New School would keep the average man busy for several hours a day.

BOYCOTTS

There ain't going to be any Blue Eagle boycotts in New York City if the local NRA committee has its way. Several of its most prominent members accepted the job only on that condition. If the public does anything to non-Eaglers it will be on the public's initiative.

BLEAT

Pity the poor New York landlords. They think the Blue Eagle is all claws.

Most of their employees—janitors, watchmen and such in office and loft buildings—work twelve hours on and twelve hours off. When the code came along they were politely uninterested. They couldn't see how management of an office building came under the interstate commerce jurisdiction of the Federal government. It was a swell idea and all that but no party of theirs.

But now General Johnson says they ought to sign up and they don't see how they can. They figure it would mean a 40 per cent increase in operating costs and with the real estate business what it is they can't view any such hike-up with equanimity. They really are not in a happy position and have quite a few sympathizers on the New York NRA committee.

LAMENT

The American Bankers Association recently received a letter from a small bank in Georgia reading as follows:

"Something just has to be done about this code business. If we sign up our janitor would get $14 per week. That's more than the President gets. This just cannot be."

FESTIVAL

Nazi Berlin headquarters has ordered the New York Nazis to stage a port festival on September 10th aboard the S. S. Resolute. In this way the sailors of the Resolute and the Reliance can get together on German soil.

Nazi participants are officially requested to refrain from beating each other up. It is pointed out that such goings-on would be apt to attract the unfavorable attention of the police—which is not part of the program.

Every New York Nazi is expected to get one new member and one new subscription to the

AIR TRAVEL BOOMS

American-operated airlines flew 25,862,120 miles, and transported 235,139 passengers, 3,648,217 pounds of mail and 1,055,876 pounds of express in the first half of 1933, Assistant Secretary of Commerce Ewing T. Mitchell announced today. The volume of passenger business handled by the scheduled air transport services showed a marked increase in June, 1933.

INCIDENT

The German Ministry for Propaganda and Popular Enlightenment worked overtime to hush up the following incident. During a recent Nazi parade placards appeared in front of the reviewing stand reading:

"Hitler, gib uns bald mehr Brot
'Sonst gehn wir alle wieder rot.'

Translated:

"Hitler, give us soon more bread
Or we'll all again turn Red."

This incident was the real reason for the sharply worded Nazi edict that "any revolutionary moves from within the ranks will be dealt with ruthlessly."

SUNSPOTS

Radio circles here are wondering what the effect will be of the end of the eleven-year sunspot cycle which influences transmission. Overseas broadcasters fear that long distance receiving will be so improved that American stations will jam them up, especially as the U. S. is planning to increase the power of its stations.

ORIENTS

Financial wiseacres see a loss in our cotton and wheat loans to China. They say the security put up is revenue on which innumerable creditors have prior claims. As for help to China in her struggle with Japan, not a chance. To those who know the dice look so loaded that nothing can keep Japan from having her way.

SIDE LIGHTS

Inspectors estimate the steel code will cost U. S. Steel around $2,000,000 a month. . . . That's $300 a share per year. . . . It's O. K. if operations can hold around 60 per cent. . . . The cost of retailing food will also go up sharply. (Copy Sept. 1933, McClure News' Sy.)

Bowl Program Tonight Ends City Playgrounds Work

EXHIBITION TO FINISH SUMMER PLAY SCHEDULE

REGISTRATION DATES SET FOR LOCAL SCHOOLS

Climaxing the summer playground program in Santa Ana, a free demonstration of work will be given tonight starting at 7:00 o'clock in the Municipal Bowl with a varied schedule of sport events on the program.

Major A. F. Moulton, supervisor of the playgrounds, is arranging the entertainment for the evening with the assistance of directors of the four playgrounds. William Heard, Bowl director, will present two of the best baseball teams to play for the city summer championship as one of the features of the evening.

Speedball teams coached by the Misses Lillian and Doris Griset, sisters who have given voluntary service as directors at Franklin and Spurgeon schools, will also meet for the city championship, Moulton said. R. R. Russick, physical education director, will referee the latter contest while Wilbur Stinchfield, pitcher for the Santa Ana Stars, will be in charge of the baseball game.

ADKINSON ANNOUNCES

Ray Atkinson, county superintendent of schools and former official at the Santa Ana high school, will be announcer during the evening for all the events.

Will M. Carithers, who has been giving instruction in archery, will be in charge of an archery contest as an added feature on the program. The shooting competition will be held at the same time as the boxing and wrestling events to add variety to the contests.

Joe Mays will referee the boxing and wrestling bouts. Johnnie Martinez and "Baby" Arizmendi will box at 128 pounds and Frank Don and L. Cox, 140 pounds, and Charles Valentine and A. Ayres, 145 pounds, will wrestle. Bicycle races between entrants from all the playgrounds will conclude the evening's program.

LOW COST FEATURE

The playgrounds at the Bowl, Franklin, Lincoln and Spurgeon schools have been conducted by the city this year for the first time at a total cost of less than $150. Major Moulton and Heard were detained from the police department on the project, the Misses Griset and Lorraine Farage offered their services to supervise the children at the three schools and William Hargett and Wilbur "Buck" Flips, detailed from the fire department, were used at the schools.

Through an arrangement with the board of education, the three school playgrounds were used free of charge. The Bowl, which proved to be the most popular recreation spot in the city, had an average attendance of between 200 and 300 bays.

In addition to the municipal program, the summer playgrounds will open Monday, September 11, for the fall semester, dates for registration have been set at the high school and junior college.

According to an announcement from the office of Superintendent of Schools Frank Henderson September 6, 7 and 8 have been set aside for registration of high school students. Junior college registration will start September 6 and continue up to and including September 8 for freshmen. September 11 will be for registration of returning students and September 12 and 13 has been set aside for registration of students entering the college for the first time.

Schedules of high school classes, indicating subjects, room numbers and teachers were made available to students today and school authorities are urging pupils to obtain these schedules and plan their classes as far as possible before they register.

When students register they will be assigned book lockers, and may either provide their own padlocks or purchase one from the schools for 75 cents. In the event the locks are purchased from the school they will be bought back at the end of the school year.

Students are urged, by school authorities to secure their locks and make their book deposits during registration days in order to avoid the inevitable rush on opening day. According to a recent ruling by the board of education, a book deposit will be accepted from students to be returned when the books are returned.

The schedule for high school registration will be:

Wednesday, September 6, 9 to 12 a.m., seniors (with names beginning A-K); 1 to 4 p.m. Seniors (L-Z).

Thursday, September 7, 9 to 12 a.m., Juniors (with names beginning A-K); 1 to 4 p.m., Juniors (L-Z).

Friday, September 8, 9 to 12 a.m., Sophomore A's (all); 1 to 4:30 p.m., Sophomore B's (all).

Bride's Aunts Join In Giving Shower In Anaheim

Choosing beautiful Anaheim as unusual setting for pre-nuptial shower, Mrs. Walther Swarner and Mrs. Edward Davis of this city joined Tuesday afternoon in complimenting their bride, Mrs. Ralph Adams, an August bride. The honoree formerly was Miss Mary Lynn Wade daughter of Mrs. M. E. Wade of Santa Ana.

Guests arrived in mid-afternoon, and enjoyed strolling through the park with its lovely pools of lilies, its flowers, shrubs and cactus gardens.

Mrs. Adams was blindfolded and seated beneath a large blue umbrella placed in a colorful spot on the grounds for an interval when guests marched up to her and showered her with many interesting looking packages. They proved to contain gifts of miscellaneous nature.

In serving a menu of sandwiches and salad, the hostesses utilized a long table down the length of which were placed snowy doilies edged alternately with orange and yellow ruffles. Yellow daisies, nasturtiums and marigolds were arranged in attractive bouquets. Napkins and other appointments were in keeping with the sunny theme.

Guests of Mrs. Swarner and Mrs. Potts, other than the honoree, Mrs. Ralph Adams, were the latter's mother, Mrs. M. E. Wade, Mr. Adams' mother, Mrs. J. F. Adams, and Mesdames Charles Heinrich, R. E. Steinberger, Ella McEwen, Ethel Hodge, Henry Walker, Alma Sudgen, T. Flechner, George Dave, S. Sorenson, Bert H. Vacation Travels Take
Teacher To Orient
And Philippines

Younger Sister Made
Party Honoree On Natal Day

Recent return of Mrs. Warren Fletcher from a summer vacation outing, completed an interesting trip upon which she left shortly after the close of the city schools in June. As traveling companion to Mrs. Martha Beebe of Phoenix, Ariz., Mrs. Fletcher accompanied her to Manila, P. I., for a visit with Mrs. Beebe's daughter, Mrs. R. J. Baker, a close friend of Mrs. Fletcher since school days.

Less than two years ago Mr. and Mrs. Baker spent their honeymoon in the Southland, and were guests for some time of Mr. and Mrs. Fletcher. Mrs. Baker was Miss Anne Beebe. Mr. Baker is auditor with the Manila Electric company, one of the largest and most powerful in the islands, controlling the railroads and various similar projects.

Accompanying Mrs. Beebe to spend the summer with her son-in-law and daughter, Mrs. Fletcher sailed on the S. S. President Hoover, stopping en route at Honolulu, Japan and China before continuing on to Manila. Her return voyage was made on the President Grant, arriving last week at Los Angeles harbor. She will resume her duties as a teacher at Lowell school when the city schools open in mid-September. Mrs. Beebe remained for a more extended visit with her daughter, and later the two will tour Europe before Mrs. Beebe's return to Arizona.

Mrs. Fletcher found the Philippines rich in interesting experiences. Part of her stay was devoted to an outing in the mountain resort of Baguio, where she was surprised to find pine trees, cool weather and similar features of the temperate zone. Baguio is a favorite summer resort for island dwellers.

Guests sharing this happy afternoon included Barbara's Sunday school and grammar school classmates and friends, and were Glenmary Wells, Lois Wieman, Betty Gowdy, Lowell Branson, Betty Hartwick, Gertrude Knox, Bonnie Struthers, Margaret Shawalter, Dorothy White, Mary Charlotte Hoover, Jean Turner, Mary Yvonne Hussong, Glenna Jean Deardorff, Eileen Rowen, Molly Maloney, Eugenia Bond, Mary Ruth McDougal, Marjorie Sewell, Buddy Sewell, Bettie Perryman, Bob Perryman, Helen Hawk, Margaret Hawk, Bonnie Smith, Donald Breeze, Janet Bates, Violet Klingeman, Shirley Hapeman, Betsy Arundo, Gertrude Knox and Beverly Short, all of Santa Ana; and Faye Sommerville of Salt Lake City.

California Educator Returns From World Conference

Arriving yesterday in Santa Ana from a two months' absence to attend the annual convention of the World Federation of Education Associations held in Dublin, Ireland, J. Calvin Lauderbach, formerly of this city but now of Chula Vista, remained for a brief visit in the home of his brother, L. B. Lauderbach, 1805 Spurgeon street. Today he and Mrs. Lauderbach and their small son, John Calvin Lauderbach Jr., left for Chula Vista where J. Calvin Lauderbach is superintendent of schools.

The former Santa Ana educator sailed for Ireland late in July. He was one of 65 delegates from the United States, and represented not only the State Teachers' association of California, but also the National Educational Association.

Fifty other nations were represented at the conference, which closed on August 4. There were 1500 delegates in attendance, and the entire conference furthered the main objective of the association, international peace and good will, strengthened by inculcating such principles in the minds of school children.

Eamon de Valera, president of the Irish Free State, was one of the important speakers. Others included Dr. Rufus B. von Klein Smid, president of the University of Southern California; Ruth Bryan Owen, United States ambassador of Denmark, and Dr. Paul Monroe of Columbia University, president of the federation.

While Lauderbach's first interest was given to attendance at the different sessions, after the close of the conference he took the opportunity to tour the British Isles very completely, concluding with some time spent in London before sailing for New York. His trip to California was made by train, and he was met in Los Angeles yesterday morning by Mrs. Lauderbach and her baby son, who have been spending the summer with Mr. and Mrs. Leon Lauderbach.

Miss Helen Mars who has been spending the summer with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter E. Mars, 1901 Spurgeon street, left today for New York City where she will resume her duties as supervisor of physical education in one of the city schools.

Mr. and Mrs. James H. Hughes, 818 Garfield street, have returned home from Santa Barbara, where they spent the past three weeks visiting with Mr. Hughes' parents, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Hughes. While in the coast city, Mr. Hughes was guest soloist at First Methodist there. Before going to Santa Barbara, the Santa Anans spent one week at Barton Flats.

Miss "Tommy" Thompson from "Tommy's" of Santa Barbara invites you to visit her new shop, "Tommy's" sister, Ruth Cook, is with her.

Miscellaneous Shower
In Irvine Honors
Bride-elect

Coming as a surprise compliment to Miss Opal Dell White, whose marriage to Jessie Haddock of this city is to take place soon, was a shower given Tuesday night in the W. L. Wells home in Irvine. Mrs. Wells and her sister, Miss Nellie Hammontree, were co-hostesses at the event.

It was Barbara's tenth birthday anniversary, and she was preparing to go on an afternoon's shopping expedition with her sister, Miss Gay, when her guests arrived, to be greeted by Miss Jean, and enjoy the amazement of the little birthday maid when she realized that there was to be a party rather than a shopping trip.

Games and contests on a program engineered by Miss Jean Thwaite were introduced, and the pretty flowers of the garden made a gay and colorful setting for the happy youngsters. One of the most interesting intervals came when all gathered close to the birthday honoree to watch her open the many gift packages which they had brought for her.

At the refreshment hour, Mrs. Thwaite lent her assistance to her daughters in serving ice cream and cookies with a delectable cake iced in pale blue, Barbara's favorite color, and sparkling pot holders for Miss White.

Games sharing this happy afternoon included Barbara's Sunday school and grammar school classmates and friends, and were Glenmary Wells, Lois Wieman, Betty Gowdy, Lowell Branson, Betty Hartwick, Gertrude Knox, Bonnie Struthers, Margaret Shawalter, Dorothy White, Mary Charlotte Hoover, Jean Turner, Mary Yvonne Hussong, Glenna Jean Deardorff, Eileen Rowen, Molly Maloney, Eugenia Bond, Mary Ruth McDougal, Marjorie Sewell, Buddy Sewell, Bettie Perryman, Bob Perryman, Helen Hawk, Margaret Hawk, Bonnie Smith, Donald Breeze, Janet Bates, Violet Klingeman, Shirley Hapeman, Betsy Arundo, Gertrude Knox and Beverly Short, all of Santa Ana; and Faye Sommerville of Salt Lake City.

Merry Affair Marks Child's Third Birthday

A merry little party of Tuesday afternoon took place in the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Hanson, 1124 West Third street, where the third birthday anniversary of their son, Deroy, was celebrated.

Children of the group spent the afternoon playing a variety of games while others present looked on. All were seated at a large table brightened with flowers from the grounds of the home for the serving of delicious refreshments.

The birthday repast included a pretty cake lighted with three tiny candles. Master Deroy received many gifts.

Present at the affair were the hosts, Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Hanson and Deroy; grandparents of the youthful honor guest, Mr. and Mrs. Lars Hanson and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Tramel; Mrs. Bert Mathews and daughter, Joyce Elaine; Mrs. Carney Phillips and daughter, Alice Jean, Santa Ana; Miss Irene Shaver, Anaheim.

On the committee in charge of the affair were Mr. and Mrs. U. S. Glaze, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Graham, Mr. and Mrs. Forrest Gray and Mrs. Susan Fratcher.

The time following dinner was spent socially, many of the group playing cards.

MAKE THIS MODEL AT HOME

SATIN FOR FALL

PATTERN 1539

By ANNE ADAMS

Satin is the biggest news note of the moment. In sleek black or one of the lustrous Fall shades, this model would make up smartly for the matron. Its lines and details flatter and slenderize... note particularly the pointed seam-ing and semi-belted waistline. A chic rever of contrast, novel sleeves and a front skirt panel claim distinction, too.

Auxiliary Drill Team
Bidden to Costume
Party

Clad in quaint costumes of a far earlier era, members and guests of the American Legion Auxiliary Drill team gathered on Monday night in the Robert Sandon home, 903 Garfield street, in response to party invitations issued by Mrs. Sandon, Mrs. Willard Swarthout and Mrs. Lee A. Post.

It was a merry evening of bridge and dancing planned by the hostess trio, and entered into with gaiety by their guests. In order that the striking costumes might be appreciated, a grand march was instituted, and at its close was a surprise feature complimenting Mr. and Mrs. George H. Sullivan.

Mr. Sullivan is captain of the drill team, and his husband serves as drill master. The team had selected a pretty gift for each, as a token of appreciation of their tireless activities on behalf of the organization, and took this time to present the gifts.

Card tables were utilized for serving the midnight supper, each table freshened with pretty linens, silver and crystal, with gay autumn flowers as decoration.

Sharing this enjoyable evening were Mr. and Mrs. Robert Sandon, Mr. and Mrs. Lee A. Post and Mr. and Mrs. Willard Swarthout, of the host group, together with Messrs and Mesdames E. J. Anderson, Russell Hardcastle, David M. Jells, Charles J. Lehman, Arnold B. Lindgaard, Warren K. McCarty, Clayton Minix, George E. Sullivan and Dr. and Mrs. Fred K. Haiber, Mrs. Evelyn Imhoff, Mrs. Fleta Sands, Miss Gladys Young and Edmunds Hanson.

dramas featuring gunmen with "rods" made eerily noiseless by silences.

A bit of information he had picked up in a motion picture magazine had hurtled into the logical chain of Dundee's reasoning: as-sistant directors were in charge of "props"; it was their business to see that no article needed for the production of a picture was lost or missing when the director needed it. Dexter Sprague had said that he had "dropped everything" to come when Nita Selim wrote him of the Chamber of Commerce project to make a "booster" movie of Hamilton, planned by the Chamber of Commerce.

Dundee tells the group that, since no one heard a shot, a gun with a Maxim silencer was used. The effect of these words is astonishing.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY.

CHAPTER XVI

As Dexter Sprague had glibly and plausibly explained away every sinister aspect of the note he had written to Nita Selim that day—the note which Flora Miles admitted having stolen and read in her hostess' clothes closet just before the murder was committed—Spec

Investigator Dundee was recalling with verbatim vividness his argument with Captain Strawn of the homicide squad immediately after his arrival into the house of violent death.

He had said then: "The person who killed Nita Selim was so well known to her, and his—or her—presence in this room so natural a thing that she paid no attention to his—or her—movements and was concentrating on the job of powdering her very pretty face."

And he had said further, in face of the disappearance of the gun and in explanation of the fact that all 12 of these people had immediately protested to Strawn that they had heard no shot:

"No, Hugo! Don't—don't!"

He whirled from Sprague in time to see Judge Marshall disengaging his arm from his young wife's clinging fingers, to note, with profound astonishment, that John C. Drake, banker, was stepping behind asido, so that not even his coat sleeve might be brushed by the advancing figure of the elderly, retired judge. And before Judge Marshall had time to speak, Dundee saw that a blight had touched, at last, the solid friendship of the women; that they did not look at each other with that air of standing together whatever happened, but that their eyes not meeting at all, had secret, calculating, afraid.

"Sir!" Judge Marshall began pompously, when he had planted himself squarely before the young detective. "It shall never be said of me that I have tried, even in the slightest way, to hamper the course of justice."

"I think you might add, Hugo,"

He had dilated proudly upon the fact that he had been an assistant director at the Altamont Studios on Long Island, and the Altamont company had recently finished making a series of "underworld" motion pictures—crook of justice."

This was a premeditated murder, of course. The Maxim silencer, unless they are all lying about not hearing a shot—proves that. Silencers are damned hard to get hold of, but people with plenty of money can manage most things."

And as Dexter Sprague had talked on, more and more glibly, Dundee had suddenly found an explanation which fitted his own argument with such perfection that he wondered, naively, if he were gifted with clairvoyance.

Of all these 12 people, whom he had questioned so relentlessly, only

Old Bible Is Exhibited At Costa Mesa

COSTA MESA, Aug. 31.—A Bible, the original owner of which lived between the years 1913 and 1920, according to information written on the flyleaf of the volume, is owned by Mrs. Ruth Lenski, who brought it to the midweek prayer services at the Community church, last night.

According to the information on the flyleaf, Albertus Magnus, born in Suabia, a kingdom of southern Germany, in the year 1913, a member of the Dominican order, was the original owner of the book. A second owner, Thomas Arnold, apparently had owned the volume in 1937.

Mrs. Lenski's father, the Rev. David H. Reid, a former pastor of the Costa Mesa Community church, now deceased, who in his day was a collector of old books, came into possession of it. The contents are all in Latin and Greek.

Another testament, well over 100 years old, was shown by Mrs. D. H. Hubert. It had at one time been the property of Rebecca Clay, a sister of Henry Clay. Rebecca Clay was the great grandmother of Mrs. Hubert.

1000 OIL MEN MEET AT H. B. UNION PLANNED

PLACENTIA SCHOOL BOARD SETS TAX RATE AT 60 CENTS

PLACENTIA, Aug. 31.—The Placentia board of education set a tax rate of 60 cents, allowing for a budget of about $49,020, excluding delinquencies, at the adjourned meeting at 4:30 p.m. yesterday at the Bradford avenue school.

This rate anticipates the enforcement of the "Sibley bill" next year, which provides that no budget shall be increased over five per cent over the budget for the preceding year. Another point of consideration is that delinquencies in taxes will bring the budget to about $45,000, and will thus reduce the money to be spent.

The question of where students from Placentia will be educated was not brought up at the adjourned meeting, because enough data had not been collected. That question will likely be threshed out at another adjourned meeting Tuesday, September 5, at 4:30 p.m.

The rate set allows about $250 per pupil per year for education.

Questions facing the board arise from the recent vote of the people to withdraw from the Fullerton union high school district.

WESTMINSTER, Aug. 31.—A meeting of the Westminster school board, and the new principal of schools, Dr. Cecil B. Hardesty, was held this week for the purpose of setting the rate of salary for the women teachers of the Westminster and Hoover schools.

It was decided to give each of the holdover teachers a salary of $1100, with $1050 for the two new teachers. The salaries for the men teachers, which were set early in the year, are as follows: Dr. Hardesty, $2200, a cut of $200 over last year's salary; Mr. Otis, principal of Hoover school, $1450, a cut of $50 from last term; Mr. Bebeleymeyer, assistant principal of school, $1500; Mr. Dell, $1450.

Bebeleymeyer and Mr. Dell will have extra work besides their class work, the former to teach music and drive a bus, while Mr. Dell also has charge of one bus.

J. W. Broyles who has served Westminster school for several terms has been appointed janitor.

He will receive $125 per month for the months of school and $100 for the vacation period. Mr. Broyles also drives a part time bus. The janitor for Hoover school has not been hired.

The playground insurance was given to the Orange County insurance company. Bus insurance went to Ed. L. Hensley and Henry F. Hennitz, local insurance agents.

Discussion on the proposed building operations in the district which awaits the state sanction of plans submitted, was held.

The school district will repair foundation damage suffered by the Presbyterian manse in the earthquake as rental on church buildings, which will again be in use for school class rooms and this work began Tuesday, with Robert Walker in charge. The house is being raised and a new foundation and mud sill put under.

Repair work needed on both the Mexican Methodist church and the county branch library building, which also will be in use are to be made in payment for their use for the same purpose.

SCHOOL BOARDS NEW CAFE CODE TO STRENGTHEN IS PLACED IN H. S. BUILDINGS EFFECT TODAY

ANAHEIM, Aug. 31.—According to a statement issued yesterday afternoon by Principal J. A. Clayes the high school board has taken out permits to expand approximately $1500 for temporary strengthening and bracing of the gymnasium, shops and study hall. This is deemed as expedient pending the official investigation of the buildings by the state department of architecture.

The statement declared that "it is the desire of the board of trustees to consider the interests of the taxpayers in making only such expenditures as are absolutely necessary to guard the safety of students and teachers."

Application has been made to the State Board of Architecture for a complete examination of the buildings mentioned above and the present work is being done with a view toward giving the maximum of safety with the minimum of cost.

Mr. Clayes stated that no word has been received from the state office in regard to the recent investigation of the auditorium that was damaged by the earthquake. He said that word is expected within the near future.

MONEY FOR LOS ANGELES; WIND FOR ORANGE COUNTY

We want to congratulate the highway commission of the state of California.

We knew that we people in Orange county were dumb, but this highway commission knew just exactly how dumb we were. We didn't.

The highway commission was just forced to love and enjoy every bone in our head.

The highway commission was brought "on the carpet" down in Los Angeles, because it had failed to use the $15,500,000 of Federal money allocated for the unemployed, in any just way for the counties that are in need, and the commission had to "come across," because Los Angeles county men mean business when they go after things. And did the highway commission know it? Well, rather. And did it "come across"? It certainly did. It said, "We will give you so much more money—between one million and two million dollars."

Orange county was in the "same boat," not involving so much money, but the same injustice, and our people knew enough to object. Oh, yes, they objected all right. The Board of Supervisors objected. The Register objected.

But Orange county hasn't the leadership there is in Los Angeles county. And did the highway commission know the difference? Well, we'll say they did.

The highway commission, with its Orange county representative, from the northern part of Orange county—that commission knew its Orange County Associated Chambers of Commerce. It said: "We'll give Los Angeles county the money, and we'll give Orange county the wind." Yes, sir, the commission knew it.

Orange county's representative undoubtedly told them that it had been "put over" in Orange county before. You can always count on them being satisfied with the wind when the politicians and the contractors get the founder of American democracy.

And so it was arranged. And these alleged "representatives of Orange county leadership" came together and the highway commission brought in its super-heated "hot air." And it turned it loose and sure enough, just as in days past, the applause came, the handclapping occurred, the resolution was introduced commanding the highway commission for the things for which it should be condemned, and the highway commission left grinning and rushed away to laugh out loud.

If Los Angeles county had only had a group like that for the commission to handle, it wouldn't have had to put up its money to correct an injustice. It satisfied the one with wind and the other had to have the coin of the realm.

This is the difference in leadership. This is the difference in the clarity of vision. This is the difference in principle. This is the difference in the way they do things.

And it wouldn't be so bad if this were the only occasion. But about the last organization to be brought into line, for anything for the public good in this country, is the Associated Chambers of Commerce.

We wouldn't have believed it possible that the highway commission was right in the assumption that it could get THAT over. But it seems that all you have to do is to tell them what a wonderful man Ralph is, and how "altruistic" this highway commission is, and the boys will throw their hats in the air and say: "We were all wrong, we are for you."

Congratulations, Mr. Stanton, you are smart. You knew your Associated Chambers of Commerce better than we did. We are learning things every day.

But we can't help wondering, with this group made up of all of the Chambers of Commerce of the county, and they all pass and do these things unanimously without a protest, why we should contribute money to keep such things going, and then have constantly to go out and fight whatever influence it is exerting.

Of course, Mr. Stanton, that doesn't interest you. You have served your group and your politics well. Those who are interested more in building unnecessary and parallel highways, than in the taxpayers' interest, or the interest of the unemployed, all should congratulate you.

THE SOCIAL WORKERS' GOAL

The Whirligig last night quoted an interview with representatives of organized labor who are disgruntled with Secretary of Labor Perkins and they charge, she has filled her office with social welfare workers whose fundamental teaching, so they say, has been "to take care of the worker." The charge is without foundation as anyone who has been in touch with social welfare work during the last fifteen years knows full well. The aim of social welfare work is to put the individual or family which needs its service on an independent basis.

That is the reason that so large a proportion of money rightfully has gone into personnel in welfare work.

Up until the depression, the welfare worker devoted herself to finding jobs for those in the family capable of working, getting the family out from under a heavy rent load, getting sick members of the family well so as to cut out medical bills. The depression made it so difficult to find jobs that taking care of people has assumed proportions disheartening to every professional worker. So long as nothing is being done to make a family self-supporting, the social worker is failing, though the fault may not be hers.

A reading of new case records as they are studied by the social welfare worker in training, so that he or she may fully understand the goal of social welfare work, would be an education for these labor men who believe that welfare workers desire only to care for people. They certainly do want to do that but the only way they want to do it is to put them in the way of caring for themselves. Long before a woman was anywhere near the position of Secretary of Labor in the President's cabinet, she passed the point where she believed that social welfare work constituted leaving baskets of groceries and a milk order. That constitutes temporary relief only. Independence for a family and relief from the distress of asking for the necessities of life is the goal of the social welfare worker and they haven't forgotten it even in the stress of these times.

THE EXTENSION OF THE FEDERAL POWER

The tremendous power granted to the president by Congress through the National Industrial Recovery Act, and the acquiescence of the States to its provisions and commands, serves to show how far we have gone away from the standards laid down by the framers of the Constitution.

The men who framed the Constitution were very wary about giving powers to the Federal Government which might interfere with the autonomy of the States. None of them dreamed of a Federal Government clothed with the powers it now has. Hamilton, who believed in a strong central government, and Jefferson, who advocated the primacy of the States, would both be surprised to see the changes which have taken place were they to appear upon the American scene again. Both of the major parties which have carried on the traditions of these two leaders have reversed their respective positions in this regard. Mr. Hoover, of the party of Hamilton, was loath to assume state functions in adopting a plan of public works or a plan of relief for the unemployed. Mr. Roosevelt, on the other hand, of the party of Jefferson, has extended the Federal authority to a degree which would have been repugnant to the founders of American democracy.

The clause in the Constitution which reserves to the States all powers not specifically delegated to the Federal Government is still binding. But by virtue of the power of regulating interstate commerce and of the control of a national currency, the door has been thrown wide open for Federal supervision and regulation.

These changes have been forced upon the country by its industrial development and by reason of the interdependence of the states upon one another. States rights have had to be brushed aside that the good of all the people of the country might be assured. The depression has all but annihilated the States Right principle. But few bewail its passing. A Constitution framed in 1787, when the nation comprised a strip of territory along the Atlantic seaboard, entirely rural in its make-up, must be stretched to meet the exigencies and the emergency of a complex industrial society.

We shall hear less from now on about States Rights, and much more of the use of Federal Power. The historian of the future may note that the transition took place when Mr. Hoover retired and Mr. Roosevelt took up the reins of government. Strange that the party of Jefferson should assume the role of the party of Hamilton in this transition.

When Yankees Went A-Whaling

—Christian Science Monitor

"Thar she blows, and blo-ows, blo-o-ows!" No longer does the traditional call of the lookout echo from the swaying masthead of the American whaler to send a boat's crew in pursuit of a school of spouting, fluke-thrashing denizens of the rolling deep.

Proof that whaling has practically ceased to exist is contained in a report of the United States Bureau of Navigation, which says thirteen steamers and one motorship are all that is left of a once great fleet that brought fame and fortune to New England three-quarters of a century ago.

"Floating butcher shop!" was the scornful opinion of many clipper-ship captains back in those prosperous 'fifties. But others looked with a more tolerant eye upon those rugged sea rovers, the whalers. It was a lonely life. Three years on the cruising grounds was the usual time required to fill the oil casks. What if whale ships did appear slovenly to the mate of a first-class Yankee clipper? Their business was pursuing whales, not sailing the seas under a lofty press of billowing kites.

Whaling contributed much to the social and economic life of those romantic days. Herman Melville capitalized its literary opportunities. Many a sea captain helped to enrich the austere severity of colonial mansions with lasting examples of Oriental art—tapestries and paintings, china and rugs and furniture brought home in the creaking holds of Yankee whalers.

Arctic ice, Confederate commerce raiders, the discovery of oil in Pennsylvania, all served to hasten the decline of the whaling industry. But the vagaries of economic trends could not submerge the thing which gave impetus to the industry—Yankee ingenuity.

With the collapse of the whale fisheries, many a whaling fortune was diverted to cotton manufacturing, particularly in New Bedford, once the chief whaling port of the world. Ever since the Civil War, cotton spinning has been the leading industry of New Bedford. But the old Buzzards Bay port still harbors men who can spin a salty yarn about the good old days of whaling.

Mussolini's Meat

—San Francisco Chronicle

Upon what meat does this our Caesar feed? That he is grown so great?

Why, upon no manner of meat at all! We are speaking of Mussolini. According to a writer in the London Daily Express, Il Duce is a vegetarian, except for milk. His breakfast is nothing more than a glass of milk. He has one full meal a day, taken at noon. His supper consists of fresh fruit alone. Somewhere in between he gets away with another glass of milk. And he is a teetotaler and never smokes.

All this fiery energy on so little fuel. Apparently to look at him and judging by his activity, Benito makes good use of the calories. He is what in mechanics might be termed an economical engine.

The flaming Hitler, too, the same writer avers, is also a vegetarian. One more point in which he imitates his Italian model.

CONFESSON OF A HYPOCHONDRIAC

When I've lived for a while in the city
I wish I were some other where;
The pavements seem smudgy and gritty.
And gasoline poisons the air.

I grow sick of the roar and the rattle
And clangor of honk-honking cars,

And I long for the lowing of cattle

And the beauty of soft shining stars.

So I seek out a house on an elm shaded road

To serve me and mine as a future abode.

But there, when I've finished my labors,

And peaceful and placid would be,

The dogs that belong to the neighbors

Indulge in a wild jamboree.

The hoot owls, high up in the branches,

As soon as I snuggie in bed,

Sit and howl like a tribe of Comanches

Till the last hope of slumber has fled.

I try to get used to the country, and then

I arise, and set out for the city again.

If I dwell by the side of the ocean

The seas, beating down on the beach,

Make a steady and constant commotion

Which puts hope of rest out of reach.

If I live by a murmuring river,

Though it's merely a trickle of mud,

I awaken at midnight and shiver

For fear it will rise in a flood.

I am nervous in city, by wood, or by sea;

There is probably something the matter with me.

Thoughts On Modern Life

By GLENN FRANK

MORE UNFAIR TRADE PRACTICES

Yesterday I began the listing of various unfair trade practices, discussed at length in a book on Business under the "Recovery Act" by Lawrence Valentine and E. B. Weiss, to which it seems to me American business must give its attention if it is to prepare itself for the new partnership between government and business which is forecast by the National Industrial Recovery Act.

I continue the listing today.

(14) The practice of invoicing a smaller quantity than the actual amount shipped.

(15) Withholding from the invoice facts which make the invoice a false record.
